. . . TOWER—SYMBOL OF NORMAL'S NEW REACH FOR RECOGNITION

SCANNING THE BULLETIN BOARD FOR THE LATEST

PIERCE HALL

Two things stand out high above the buildings, trees, and hills of Ypsilanti: one is the water tower, a well-known and long-standing landmark, and the other is the modern tower of John D. Pierce Hall. Pierce Hall, of which the tower is a small but integral part, serves the college community in several ways, not to mention its designation as the Administration Building.

The building, built and dedicated in 1948, replaces its predecessor, a smaller structure that was stocked with tradition and memories of the early days of Michigan State Normal College. In a sense, the new three-storied building marks the step into a new era following the college's first one hundred years of operation.

In addition to housing the offices of the president, the deans, the registrar, the controller, and other administrative offices, the building serves three departments of the college with classrooms. At almost any time during the day, courses in mathematics, English, and education may be found being taught there.

In the not too distant future, the tower of Pierce Hall will take on a new and added significance as chimes are an almost inevitable addition. The added character brought with chimes should be something wonderful to observe.

THE LIBRARY

"I'll see you at the library," is a very common remark heard on the Michigan State Normal campus. The library, cultural center for the college, serves as an excellent meeting place both day and night. Any number of friends are apt to be seen there, preparing a speech, term paper, or report of some kind. With three large reading rooms, the library serves many students with study facilities.

The library is one of the veteran buildings on campus and boasts over 130,000 volumes. Of these, education books are probably the most plentiful, giving the college one of the best lists of education books in the United States. Five hundred and seven current periodicals are also listed by the library.

In addition to providing all the services that might be expected of a library and offering study space for students, the library also houses the Modern Language Department. Thus, one might expect to hear bits of Spanish, French, or German when walking along a second floor corridor.

Also in the teaching category, several courses in Library Science are taught with the aim of aiding those desiring to be full or part-time librarians. Many teachers who have been teaching for several years return to Normal for some of these library courses.

McKENNY HALL

A college would not be complete without a union, for within this building lies an important segment of a college student's education; a segment which receives no mention in scholarship reports but, nevertheless, contributes by helping students get along with each other.

Michigan Normal fulfills this requirement in its Charles McKenny Hall, one of the finest student unions for a college of its size in the country. McKenny Hall, built largely by the alumni, is the center of the social life on the campus.

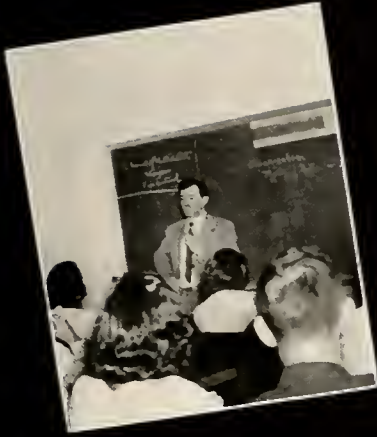

The new and modern basement grill, opened last fall, 1950, is a day-long source of new friends, vigorous discussions, humor, and coffee.

Adjoining the grill is another haven for friends—the bowling alleys and the poolroom. Even newer than the grill, the five alleys, two pool tables, and the billiard table still retain some of their newness in spite of the almost incessant activity on them.

From the swish of formals in the ballroom, the rattle of dishes in the cafeteria, and the echoes of someone making a speech in one of the lounges, to the individual sprawled out on a soft couch in complete relaxation, McKenny Hall hasn't changed much since it opened its doors to the college and the community in 1927.

We applied classroom knowledge to classroom technique, thus learning that both go hand in hand.

LEARNING TO TEACH AND TEACHING TO LEARN

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT

The English Department has a staff of twenty-eight members and consists of composition, literature and speech instructors. All students at Michigan Normal are required to take two of the courses offered by the English Department—one year of written composition work and one semester of speech.

The basic literature courses offered by the department are introductory courses in poetry, prose, and Shakespeare. The aim in each of these is to read for understanding. The courses are designed for students who read intensively and at the same time extensively. Most of the courses beyond these fundamentals are planned to familiarize students with various periods of English literature.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE DEPARTMENT

The foreign language department of the college has eight staff members, headed by Dr. Owens. French, German, Latin, and Spanish are the languages which were taught this year. Russian will be added to this group next year. Students are allowed to major only in French, Latin, or Spanish. Foreign students often enroll in the literature courses of the department. About half the students who major in a foreign language plan to be language teachers. The rest are usually students going into graduate work.

BOOKS, BOOKS, BOOKS

LIBRARY SCIENCE

Twelve years ago, at the request of President John M. Munson, Miss Andrews, Miss Milliman, Mrs. Bates, Miss Rosenstreter, and Mr. Cleveringa instituted the curriculum in School Library Service to satisfy the needs for full-time librarians' in the elementary and secondary schools and for teacher-librarians who give part time to teaching and part time to supervision of the school library.

Michigan State Normal College was the first to offer such training, and it has done an excellent job in setting up a complete curricular program to meet the varied demands. At present, the Department is qualified to offer a four-year curriculum in School Library Service for those interested in choosing library service as a career. Too, it is qualified to offer courses to students majoring in other curricula who are desirous of gaining practical instruction in the use and function of the average school library. However, only a limited number of students may elect courses in School Library Service.

Many of the students who have successfully completed the four-year curriculum in School Library Service, have gone directly from Normal to positions such as in the reference library at the Detroit Free Press.

THE FINE ARTS

By 1854, the study of music was an established portion of the curriculum. Since that early date the department has continually expanded until now courses in theory, history, literature, and appreciation of music are offered as well as music education.

The music conservatory was established in 1880 by order of the State Board of Education. The aims of the conservatory are two-fold: the training of teachers for the public school and the study of music for specialized fields.

Art, like music, has long been a basic part of the scholastic program. Even during the early days art was recognized as one of the primary teaching aids.

In 1901, drawing was made a separate department. This was the year that Miss Bertha Goodison joined the faculty. For many years, she gave much of her time, energy, and ability to the development of the art department.

The department now offers the opportunity to do creative art work and to learn child development through art.

SCIENCE DEPARTMENT

Science, or natural philosophy, has occupied a major place at Normal ever since the establishment of the college in 1849. In 1885, the department was divided into two departments: natural science and physical science—the latter under the direction of Dr. Stong. Upon his retirement in 1916, the department was divided into the chemistry and physics departments, with only one instructor in each. Now, the chemistry department alone has eight instructors.

An outstanding event in the physics department was the purchase of the 10-inch Mellish refracting telescope in 1936. Professor R. R. Gortan served as head of this department from 1916 to 1936. He was then succeeded by Dr. Horry L. Smith.

NOW THIS IS A MAPLE!

THE MATH DEPARTMENT

The Math Department has a staff of six members. The department has a broad curriculum and offers a large variety of subjects to the students who need them. These include Plane Geometry, Arithmetic of Business, and others.

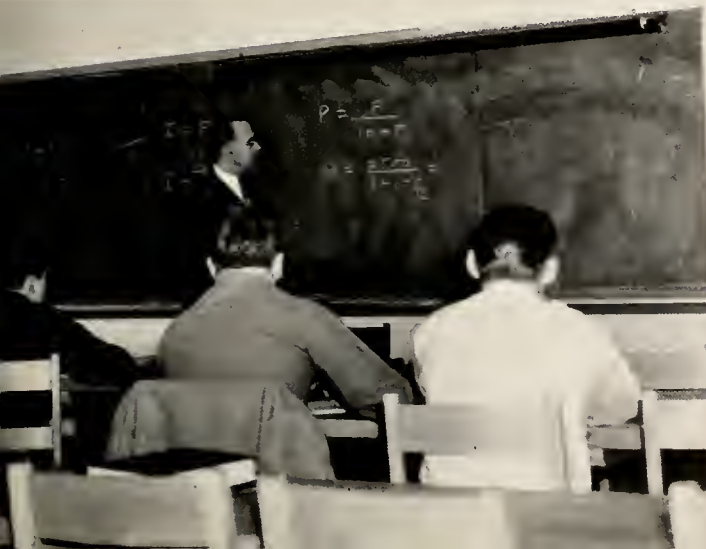

The subjects offered fit into the various curricula. Science students can take courses in calculus, statics, slide rule, and surveying. Math of commerce, and statistics are also open to students in the social sciences. Senior high school majors and minors and elementary students enroll in the various methods courses offered by the department. General courses include statistical methods in education and surveying. Michigan Normal also offers many advanced mathematics courses—more than most teacher's colleges.

Our Math Department compares with that of almost any university and exceeds in scope almost all universities in an undergraduate way.

SOCIAL SCIENCE DEPARTMENT

The social sciences, history, economics, and geography, represent a very basic part of our modern education system. The recognition of the relative value of these fields in a well rounded education, is something which was left to the twentieth century to discover.

In 1881, the year Julia Ann King joined the faculty of M. S. N. C., there were only two history courses offered and these of a very general nature. Due partly to Miss King's very dynamic personality, the history department attained its rightful place of importance in the curriculum. Within the next ten years, two new instructors were added to the department.

Nineteen twenty-four, when the enrollment reached its all time high 2675, saw only six instructors in the social science field. In 1950 with an enrollment somewhat below that figure we have fifteen instructors in the history field alone.

The geography department too is growing. In 1900 the department was formed as a separate one on this campus, one of the first in the country.

OCCUPATIONAL THERAPY

The Occupational Therapy curriculum at Michigan State Normal College is within the School of Special Education, with headquarters in the Rackham School. The program offers a degree course with a major in occupational therapy, minors in industrial arts and natural science. Regularly, registered occupational therapists, graduates of the above program, help fill the great need for OT's in occupational therapy departments throughout the country. Frances Herrick, OTR, is supervising director of the curriculum. Beatrice Ware, OTR, is assistant.

SPECIAL EDUCATION DEPARTMENT

Normal was the first state teachers college in the United States to establish training for teachers of handicapped children. Earliest offerings in this field were made in the summer of 1915. In 1924, a full-time training center was established under the organization and direction of Professor Charles M. Elliott, who guided its growth until his death in 1941.

Divisions were added as funds and teachers were made available. The laboratory classes include training for teachers of mentally retarded, crippled, deaf and hard of hearing, and partially sighted children, as well as children of low vitality. Classes in speech reading for adults have been offered since 1926. A curriculum in Occupational Therapy was established in 1941. The first graduate courses were offered in 1938.

The present Director of Special Education is Dr. Francis E. Lord, who was appointed in 1942. Recent years have seen interesting research projects, and summer programs have included work for the cerebral palsied child, for the adult blind, and for deaf-blind children.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS DEPARTMENT

The Industrial Arts Department functions as an integral part of the College in addition to providing specialized work for those desiring to qualify for teaching in the various industrial arts fields.

In all courses, emphasis is placed on educational development and understanding rather than on manipulative processes or projects alone. Thus, most of the work functions as general education through planning, research, and study of problems of a concrete nature.

Most of the instruction and experience in the department is such that it is valuable to the student, regardless of whether or not he completes his four-year program.

The courses offered include practical drawing, woodwork, metal work, electrical work, printing, arts and crafts, household mechanics, farm shopwork, and industrial arts and activities for the elementary grades.

Graduates of the department have been successful in teaching, school administration, business, and industrial occupations.

NEVER UNDERESTIMATE THE POWER OF A WOMAN

HOME ECONOMICS DEPARTMENT

This department was organized in 1903 as a two-year curriculum. At that time, the courses were "open to any woman in the College or the town" and were largely skill or craft courses. In 1918, Normal College was designated by the State Board of Education as the Teachers' College in Michigan to prepare teachers for teaching vocational homemaking in the public schools. This necessitated extending the curriculum to four years, including a course in home management with residence at 415 Perrin Street. The present curriculum includes various aspects of homemaking and offers a major and a minor in home economics as well as elective courses.

BUSINESS EDUCATION DEPARTMENT

The Business Department has two professional four-year curricula—Business Education, which is designed to prepare students for the teaching of business subjects in the high school, and Business Administration, which is designed to prepare students for various positions in business and industry.

Inasmuch as the courses in Business Administration are adjuncts to the Business Education curriculum, they greatly facilitate a student's transfer from one curriculum to the other. This dual function of the department helps in guiding students into occupations which fit their needs and where they will make their best possible contribution to society.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

The Physical Education Department was established in 1894 under the leadership of Professor W. B. Bowen and Miss Fanny Burton. In those early days as now Physical Education had two main functions on this campus. They were: first, to train teachers for the physical education field, and second, to provide an active intramural sports system for all students who were interested.

Many activities of the Physical Education Department have become traditions of the college. For instance, it has been the custom of the department to present a Circus once every four years, and a Spring Dance Festival which has superseded the old May Day.

HOW TO TEACH

How to Teach—now, there is an intriguing title. Seeing such a title, you are undoubtedly reminded of those countless "How to" classics in which some complex subject, from atomic physics to repairing the family automobile, is boiled down into ten easy lessons which "any ten-year-old can follow." If any of you are anticipating such, you might just as well turn the page.

No one can tell you how to teach—not in a million years. True, certain subjects are aimed at showing you how to teach effectively, but none of them can show you how to teach. That, you must discover for yourself.

In teaching, you are dealing with human nature—human nature in the making, human nature as exemplified by some thirty to fifty individuals; each looking to you, the teacher, for the recognition and the satisfaction of his or her own needs. What wonder, then, that no one can tell you how to teach.

If you really want to learn how to teach—then, teach. Teach with the tenderness of a mother, the sternness of a father, and the innocence and vitality of a child, and you will learn how to teach—each and every time you enter the classroom.

AND THIS IS A BASKETBALL

THE TEACHERS OF "ODYSSEUS"

Generally speaking, entrance into high school marks an important, and often awe-inspiring, turning point in the life of a youth. He has long since ceased to think of toys and games of tag and is now ready to learn to think in terms of his responsibilities to society and to himself. In the brief years allotted to him, he is expected to learn what these responsibilities are and what is needed to meet them. A monumental task—yes, but he, like Odysseus, is not alone; his teachers are there to help him in whatever way they can. And while they are not Olympian gods, they can do much in lightening his task and leading him aright. This, then, is the task of the teacher, and what teacher wouldn't regard it as the most important task in the world.

ELEMENTARY TEACHING

It used to be that the big difference between an elementary-school pupil and a secondary-school pupil was a pair of long pants and a smooth line. Now, long pants are no longer the criterion, and after talking with some of the teachers, I am inclined to believe that the other criterion has followed suit.

Yes, the present elementary-school pupil is decidedly different from the one of a few years ago. He is still the lovable brat looking for ingenious ways to harass the teacher, but, on the other hand, he is an intelligent youngster who often knows more about science and geography than the teacher would like to admit. With his broader knowledge and greater curiosity, he keeps the teacher constantly on her toes.

TEACHING AT RACKHAM

Possibilities for a great challenge lie in the field of Special Education. Rackham School at M.S.N.C. is the first to carry on this type of work in the nation.

Those students who are interested in this curriculum may observe any class at Rackham or participate in the Women's League program, supervised by Dr. Francis Gates, to see if the "shoe fits."

If you are a person who has an enjoyment of life; understanding of people; adaptability; tolerance; good emotional, physical and mental health; well-developed group attitudes; a wide range of interests; patience; an interest in the community and an awareness of professional changes; this is your chance to gain pre-teaching rapport with the children and critic teachers of special education.

KRESGE vs. EXTRAVAGANZAS

The students of Normal had a wide variety of activities to occupy their spare time during the year. From the unpretentious weekly Wednesday Kresge dances to the open house extravaganzas given by the girls' dormitories, Normalities had many opportunities to look over the potentialities of the members of the opposite sex.

Comfortably dressed students from all over campus convened at these gatherings to talk, laugh, and dance. The only requirement for enjoyment was the ability to relax and join the crowd.

WHICH SPEAKER WAS THE BEST?

A good opportunity for gaining knowledge and understanding was afforded to the student body by the student-faculty assembly committee in the form of Tuesday morning assemblies. These assemblies featured an assortment of speakers such as the stirring Russian authority Robert Kazmayer and the actor-critic Joe Calloway.

To assist and stimulate logical thinking among the students, topics which were current and sometimes controversial were presented by qualified speakers. Alcoholism, discussed by Joseph Laughrey, was typical of the subjects heard.

As far as the honor students were concerned, the highlight of the assembly season was the Third Annual John M. Munson Honor Convocation Address at which Dr. Gordon K. Chalmers, President of Kenyon College, spoke.

THE 1950 HOMECOMING

What is autumn at college without homecoming? What is homecoming without a queen and the colorful coronation? And what is homecoming without a parade of clever and original floats?

THE FLOATS OF THE YEAR

Seldom before has the Homecoming Float Judging Committee had such a wide selection of clever and well-made floats from which to choose a winner than they did last fall.

Coming up with the honors in their classification, King Hall won with a simple, but striking, float accented by several pairs of shapely legs. And again the Industrial Arts Department ran off with the departmental prize with a complicated sausage machine.

Remarkable floats ran off with the Greek awards. Kappa Mu Delta and Kappa Phi Alpha were the sorority and fraternity winners, respectively.

WOMEN'S LEAGUE AND MEN'S UNION DANCES

Highlighting the Fall social season on campus were Hawaiian Hollidays and the Yule Log Drag. These semi-formal dances were sponsored by the Women's League and the Men's Union respectively. As co-chairmen of the League dance Jean Allison and Mary Andonian arranged to have decorations and favors to carry out the Hawaiian theme. Before dancing to the music of Dick Ohlinger and his band, the couples were flown on an imaginary trip to the tropical islands. After landing, the visitors were presented with leis and their surprise favors.

With the Christmas season approaching, Union vice-president Fritz Emling and his committees were busy decking the hall with baughs of hally for the annual Yule Log Drag. Couples were favored that night in dancing to the music of Lawry Clark, one of the Midwest's most entertaining saxaphonists. Picturesque atmosphere provided by candle light accompanied refreshments which were served in the dining room of McKenny Hall. A fitting close to the dance was the presentation of combination flash-lights and key rings as favors.

WHO AIN'T DANCING?

"BETTER TO GIVE THAN RECEIVE"

Rather than give a Yuletide party for themselves, the King girls decided to invite some of the children from the local areas. With the able cooperation of Kris Kringle, Mrs. Whitney and Mrs. Trumbull, salemn eyes were soon replaced by eager dancing smiles. When the children left, gifts hugged close to them, nary a cookie, candy cane or ban-bon was to be seen. Nevertheless, the nicest gift of all was received by the King Hall girls, themselves—the pleased, happy laughter of children.

"GO GET 'EM"

The Senior Musical Comedy was the first show of its kind to be produced on the campus. The show was the product of three months work on the part of thirty-five students who devoted most of their time and energy to the project. The show, entitled "Go Get 'Em," was presented in January to an appreciative audience. The response of the student body and the administrative body was sufficient enough to highly warrant similar productions by ensuing Senior classes.

The show was promoted entirely by the students in all of its many phases such as writing, directing, acting, financing, and construction. It is something of a sad commentary that the administration had seen fit in previous years to stifle such activity and, consequently, thwarting much unused talent and warding off much prestige that might have been brought to the college.

LEADERSHIP TRAINING COMMITTEE

The Leadership Workshop was a new experience on this campus and included eighty persons in its first meeting. This idea was brought to campus by nine Women's League representatives who attended a convention at M.S.C.

Under the direction of Don Philips and Larry Taylor of the Adult Extension Department, the foundation for the workshop was built. Representatives from all clubs, depts., dormitories and classes were present. Sponsors for each were also invited.

The workshop opened with a party to allow an opportunity for everyone to become acquainted. The convention proper dealt with the responsibilities of the leader to the group.

The processes used in handling the group were interesting and worthwhile. This convention was very successful, and plans for enlarging the next workshop are in the future plans.

THE NIGHT THAT PADDY MURPHY DIED, I NEVER WILL FORGET—

A WESTERN OPEN HOUSE

An estimated crowd of 250 students took part in the King Hall open house. The theme of the open house was western, and the entire first floor and basement were decorated with paper cowboy boots and cactus plants. The hostesses were in western costumes to give the entire event an atmosphere of "Round Up Time."

Square dancing was the main attraction for the evening, which began shortly after everyone arrived and continued until the refreshments were served later in the evening.

While the majority of the guests were either square dancing or tapping their feet on the sidelines, many people were in the recreation room taking part in the many contests.

Still keeping in mind the theme of the old west, the refreshments, "root beer" and pretzles, were served in the main lounge with light provided by the single candles on each table.

Members of "The College of the Air" radio committee and Normal students, broadcasting from the Union. These broadcasts were presented every Saturday evening through the facilities of radio station WHRV. The programs presented were composed of both speeches, debates, and musicals.

THE HAPPY GANG

The spirit of comradeship and opportunity for self-expression was fostered by campus organizations.

S T U D E N T G O V E R N M E N T A T N O R M A L

The Student Government at Michigan Normal consists of two main bodies: the Student Council, which is a policy-making board that introduces and passes judgment on the rules and regulations governing student activity, and the Student Court, which is a judicial board that tries and sentences violators of these regulations. The Student Government has just completed its second year of existence, and with many accomplishments listed in its records, it deserves a vote of thanks from the student body. In the decisions reached at its bi-monthly meetings, the Council has always had the students' needs foremost in its mind. The Council's president, Jim Wichterman, deserves special commendation for his tireless efforts to keep the Council on its toes and to keep harmony between the student body and the faculty. Vice-president Jim Green and Chief Justice Jean Allison also deserve special merit for a job well done.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council of Michigan State Normal College is completing its second year of existence, and we of the Council hope that it has a successful one. We want to take this opportunity to thank the student body and the faculty for their cooperation. The Student Council could not have accomplished all that it did if it had not had the assistance of the entire college. We especially want to thank Dean Isbell for his help as our sponsor. In closing, I want to thank all of the members of the Council and the Court for the excellent job they have done.

men's union

The fall of 1950 saw the following men take their positions on the staff of the Men's Union: Donald Duff, president; Fred Emiling, vice president; Robert Wells, secretary; and Robert Shankie, treasurer. The representatives on the Executive Board were: seniors, John McMurray and Samuel Duszynski; juniors, Donald Ross and Joseph Brodie; sophomores, Edward Skowneski and James Reid; and freshmen, Richard Miller and Alvin Moring. The Social Committee consisted of Milo Danzeisen, Robert Ostrow, Duane Bondy, and James Gilster.

At Homecoming, the Board acted as officials at the annual Class Games which, luckily, were again won by the Sophomore Class. Several men on the Board and some of the members-at-large also served on the Homecoming Committee, which prepared a fine festive week end.

On December 1, 1950, the annual Yule Log

Drag was held in Charles McKenny Hall. The dance committee, headed by Fred Emiling, provided a fine evening of dancing to Lowry Clark's orchestra.

Working in conjunction with the Women's League and the Student Council, the Union made the College foster-parents of a fatherless Dutch war orphan.

In February, Fred Emiling took over as president when Don Duff was graduated. Work continued on our publicity through sign campaigns, and a new "Normal News to G. I.'s" program was started.

women's league executive board

The Women's League is the campus women's organization of student government, and all women students belong automatically upon registration in the College. It consists of two main bodies: the Executive Board and the Advisory Board.

The Executive Board of the Women's League is the governing and policy-making board that introduces and passes judgment on the rules and regulations governing the activities of all women students. It is composed of the chairmen of the many standing committees, dormitory representatives, elected members-at-large, members of the College Social Committee, Student Council representatives, Women's Recreation Association representatives, and its own officers.

Many activities, some new and some old, were presented by the Women's League through its Executive Board. The traditional green ribbons, the tea that was given by the freshmen girls for the upperclassmen, the "Buzz Session," and the girl-bid dances—"Hawaiian Holiday" and the semi-formal of the spring—combined to add life and gaiety to the campus.

This year, the League's Homecoming float won first prize. Too, Michigan State Normal College was hostess to the State Convention in the spring, and the convention was a huge success under the leadership of Peg LaFleur.

advisory board

The Advisory Board of the Women's League has the unhappy but necessary duty of enforcing the rules and regulations set up by the Women's League Executive Board to govern and direct the social life of our campus coeds. It lends a sympathetic and understanding ear to the plights of those girls who fail to hit the date deadline, and it metes out some form of punishment in accordance with the nature and seriousness of the particular problem. Only in rare cases is this punishment of such a nature as to leave the unlucky ones, numb with terror.

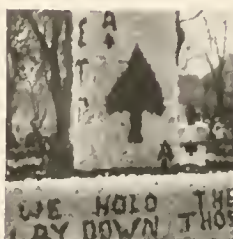

The membership of the Board consists of the Vice President of the Executive Board plus eight women, who are elected at the spring election by the women on campus or by the Executive Board. Of these, five members are upperclassmen and the remaining three are sophomores. The Advisory Board meets every Tuesday at 7:00 in McKenny Hall to discuss problems of social conduct and any other business that comes up.

This year, the business of the Board was capably and skillfully handled by the following women; they are from left to right: D. Gulbransen, M. Pellowe, M. Andonian, M. Bracken, M. Clarkson; Standing: C. Church, A. Doty, J. Starbuck, M. Hall.

panhellenic council

The Panhellenic Council, composed of representatives from all social sororities, stands for scholarship, for guarding of good health, for wholehearted cooperation with our college's ideals for student life, for the maintenance of fine social standards, and for the serving, to the best of our ability, of our college community.

President Catherine Challis and our advisor, Dean Hill, have guided the council through its many activities with the able assistance of its other officers: Delores Soderquist, corresponding secretary; Mory Jone Thompson, treasurer; Gretchen Goffield, recording secretary.

inter-fraternity council

The Inter-Fraternity Council is an organization composed of two representatives from each fraternity on campus. It is the principal duty of the council to govern all rushing and pledging activities as set forth in the Inter-Fraternity constitution. Also, it is the function of the council, through its representatives, to transact business concerning the respective fraternities and to further inter-fraternity brotherhood.

During the past year the council, under President Huizenga, carried on many activities to promote good will among fraternity men. High points among these were a hayride in November, the Inter-Fraternity Dance on March 17, and a Hollow-clean-up project sponsored with the assistance of Dr. Belcher.

alpha sigma tau

The Alpha Sig's began an eventful year with Margaret Hoffman as president and Mrs. Wanda Bates as faculty advisor.

Our first social function, in honor of our national founder, was a luncheon at which all of the members and many of the alumni were present.

The seventeen new members that were taken in this year completed their rushing periods at a week-end party at Wampler's Lake and a formal dinner-dance.

One of the projects which we were proud of was the adoption of a needy family at Christmas time, for whom we collected clothes, food, and toys.

Harriet Robertson, vice-president; Gloria Wedge, recording secretary; and Margaret Meyer, treasurer; worked with other upperclassmen to plan the annual senior picnic where each senior was presented with a recognition pin.

alpha kappa alpha

Alpha Kappa Alpha launched its civic program for the year by donating a Thanksgiving basket to a needy family in Ypsilanti. They also worked diligently at their major project of folding paper bags for patients at Beyer Hospital.

Founder's Day was observed by a Rededication Ceremony in which Sorors of neighboring chapters also participated.

A Fashion Show was presented in April, featuring the female wardrobe from infancy to the day of marriage.

The Annual Akabaile, a semi-formal dance, occurred in May at Charles McKenny Hall.

The final project of the year was to award a scholarship to a deserving graduate of one of the local high schools.

The officers for the year were Jackie Frazier, president; Juanita Covenington, vice-president; Barbara Lewis, corresponding secretary; Catherine Neviels, recording-secretary; Dorothy Johnson, treasurer.

With the Chicago Conclave still on our mind, we began the year '50-'51 with much enthusiasm. After celebrating our Founder's Day in September, we concentrated our efforts on rushing and our homecoming float and open house. Our pledges worked with the members to make homecoming great fun. The pledges were initiated in December and were our entertainers at our annual Alumni Christmas Party. We wound up the Christmas Yuletide by participating in the All College Sing and by sending relief packages to the needy. The new year found us preparing for the Panhellenic Dance and the new semester's pledges. We had a swimming party with the Sigma Nu's and a dance with the Theta Lambda Sigma's. After initiation and our Chapter Founder's Day, we elected and installed our new officers for the coming year. The celebrated Alumni Luncheon ended a happy year.

delta sigma theta

The Delta Sigma Thetas began their year with an Open House during the rushing season for alumnae with the Wayne and Ann Arbor Chapters as guests. During the year we had an assortment of activities such as an informal dance in the early fall, a Round-up Luncheon which was the first annual reunion of Delta Beta chapter, a card party, a record dance given jointly with our brother fraternity, and a Founder's Day worship service held at Brown Chapel in Ypsilanti.

The Ann Arbor chapter invited us to attend two of their social functions as guests, and we in turn held our ribbon pinning ceremony at the Michigan League Chapel.

The officers for this year were Frances Barrington, president; Odina Covington, vice president; Bernadine Newsom, secretary; Eunice Mason, treasurer; Elizabeth Morris, reporter; and Miss Norma Jean Anderson, advisor.

Looking back on a full year: two successful rushing seasons—a hayride on which we became better acquainted with the Theta's—the winning of the Homecoming trophy for our "Web of Defeat"—the Alumnae Homecoming Tea—our Brother-Sister dance with the Kappa Phi's—the style show staged by our pledges at the Christmas party given by the alums—resurrecting clothes and toys for our Christmas project—joining with the Kappa Phi's for the Christmas Sing—the Pan Hellenic Dance—going athletic with basketball, ping pong, and bowling teams—the Valentine party which fostered budding romances—the beaming mothers at the Mother's Day Luncheon—going to Detroit for the annual May Bruncheon—picnics in the Hollow—the fun filled weekend at the lake, the Kappa Mus found that college can be very wonderful.

pi kappa sigma

Pi Kappa Sigma's social events for the year, under the supervision of Beverly Sischo, began with a hayride. It was held from Glencoe Hills and was followed by a "Weenie Roast." The social season moved on with a slumber party held at the home of Dorothy De Groff. At Halloween the sorority enjoyed a party at the home of Ann Eugenedis in Ann Arbor.

Pi Kappa Sigma's highlight of the Christmas holiday season was its annual Christmas Ball, a semi-formal dance.

During this year the sorority was happy to welcome Sigma Alpha Delta as its brother fraternity. Their first social event together was a dinner-dance on February 17.

Officers for the year were Mildred Ey, president; Betty Lou Smith, vice-president; Jacqueline Jacobs, recording secretary; Pat Attwood, corresponding secretary; and Delores Nevins, treasurer.

sigma nu phi

Sigma Nu Phi ended another year with an abundance of success in both social and civic activities.

Early in the fall, the Sigma Nus and their dates spent an evening of fun, song, and food at a hayride held at Susterka Lake.

The chapter was given honorable mention for its entry in the Homecoming parade. This honor was duly applauded at the Chocolate Hour given for the Alumnae, following the game.

At Christmas time, the girls supported an under-privileged family. The food and clothes, collected by the girls, brought tears of joy to the chosen family. Many Sigma Nu Phi alumnae celebrated Valentine's Day at the annual Sweetheart Ball held February 17.

The officers were Joyce Bobier, president; Jo Ann Immer, vice-president; Madge Pumroy, recording secretary; Sharyne Sturgeon, corresponding secretary; Patsy Benedict, treasurer; Edrhe Truesdell, historian.

sigma sigma sigma

Sigma Sigma Sigma started the year off with flying colors by receiving honorable mention for its Homecoming Float "Hold that Line." Tri Sigs welcomed their alumnae at a tea at the home of Nancy Barenow after the football game.

The sorority had its first infarmal dance with its brother frat, Phi Sigma Epsilon in December.

The Alumnae Tea was held in February. In April the Tri Sigs prepared for Founder's Day and their formal dance.

Miss Susan Stinson, our very devoted sponsor, retired at the end of the fall semester. Mrs. Robert Chapman then took over the temporary guidance of the chapter.

The officers for the year were Joyce Hartung, president; Shirley Madison, vice-president; Joanne Moran, recording secretary; Donna Yost, corresponding secretary; Patty Beeman, treasurer; Rosemary Shadfard, keeper-of-the-grades.

theta lambda sigma

Under the able leadership of President Elaine Sanders; Vice-President Pat Branstetter; Recording Secretary, Elaine Ringel; Treasurer, Joan McMurray; Sergeant-at-Arms Alice Smith; and Chaplain Joanne Kennedy, the Theta's began another busy year.

The year was initiated with a hayride given with the Kappa Mu's. Succeeding dates on the Theta calendar included the Homecoming Tea, the annual formal dinner-dance at McKenny Hall in honor of our new members and Miss Vint who became our new advisor when Miss Norton left to become Mrs. Tschopp, and the Christmas Party at Mrs. Davis's where we wrapped clothes and toys for a needy family.

In the Spring, we gave our mothers a luncheon and entertained our fathers at a reception. The Theta's brought the year to a close with a swimming party and the annual Senior Breakfast.

The keynote word for Alpha Gamma Upsilon's third year at Normal was "enthusiasm."

Homecoming found the members busily working on their float, which illustrated the benefits of our educational system, for the annual parade. "Autumn Prelude," the chapter's annual fall dance, was held on November 2, in the McKenny Hall Ballroom. Collection of food for the needy families of this area was held during the Christmas season. We all dressed up for our annual masquerade on March tenth and made friends with brothers from all over at the national convention in Toledo, Ohio during May.

President Don Wood and Vice President Jerry Doughty held the reins tight with the cooperation of Secretary John Valusek, Corres. Sec't. Peter Evaris, Treasurer Don Vetal, and Sgt.-at-Arms Bruce Dryer.

arm of honor

Undefeated in regular football competition, the Arm of Honor retained the "Little Brown Jug" for the second successive year. When a tie game with the Phi Sigs had to be replayed, it was a close call, but the Arm won 7-6. Phi Sigma Epsilon honored the victors at a party given at Susterka Lake.

During Homecoming the unique Hammerhead float won second-place honors. Another memorable social festivity was our annual dance, "Dancing in the Dark."

Lord High T. Huizenga saw to it that the year's business ran smoothly. He did a good job with lots of help and encouragement from his fellow officers: Commander T. Stuart, V-Commander J. McMurray, Scribe Wm. Chmelko, Treasurer N. Oliver, Chaplain E. Brehmer, Corres. Sec't. J. Holdridge, and Pledge Master O. McCourt.

kappa phi alpha

Kappa Phi Alpha enjoyed a complete round of activities. During October Open House was held, and six new members were pledged. Each, enjoyed his seven weeks of pledging before being introduced to Hercus on December 11.

Our annual Red Rose Ball, was directed by Bob Dean, who introduced an intermission entertainment featuring the Four Horsemen and the Greig brothers.

The outstanding feature of the Phi Delta Pi Fraternity during the last war was the Nationalization which took place on Nov. 11, 1950. This is a milestone in our history and evidence of progress being made.

Our social program for the year was initiated with a "Fall Ball" on October 6. Not long after this, an evening of fun was had when we all gathered at our patron's home to build our float for Homecoming, which we hope to make an annual affair.

The next big event on our social calendar was the Washingtonian Dinner Dance on February 24. Many familiar faces reappeared at this get-together which proved to be an event not soon to be forgotten. Dr. Marvin Carr of the Chemistry Department served as Toastmaster.

During the year we received 30 pledges, who will endeavor to further our ideals and policies.

phi sigma epsilon

Returning from the National Conclave in Detroit, the Phi Sigs eagerly began a year crammed with such activities as a brother-sister dance with the Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority in December, a Valentine dance, and the cleaning and redecorating of the fraternity house by the members living there.

Guiding the fraternity for the year were Mr. William Wilcox, Mr. Hilton Falahee, and Dr. Roman Young. The officers of the fraternity were Edward Schulz, president; David Smoker, vice-president; Patrick O'Connor, treasurer; James Gilster and Daniel Wozniak, recording secretaries; Roger Tyrrell, historian; and Robert Stone, social director. Sharing the pledgemaster position were Martin Gabrysiak, assisted by Norman Mihatsch, and Kenneth Nelson, assisted by John Buchalski.

sigma alpha delta

Sigma Alpha Delta activity has been high this year. We all worked hard to construct a float for the Annual Homecoming parade and received an honorable mention. "Sweet Music," the Fraternity's Annual Dance, was held during November. This fall, we pledged ten men including two faculty members, Mr. Hughs and Mr. Hunt, and an honorary member, Mr. Moore. We said goodbye in January to five of our brothers. It was a proud day when we formed brother-sister ties with Pi Kappa Sigma sorority, and really enjoyed our joint dinner-dance held in McKenny hall.

We appreciated the hard work of President Ulrich and his fellow officers: Vice-President George Jewell, Secretary Robert Lemay, and Treasurer Joe Berkey because it certainly has been a wonderful year.

Ably guided through this year's activities by President Pat McCauley, Sigma Tau Gamma has had a busy time.

We stoged our second annual alumnae dinner during Homecoming and won honorable mention in the parade with the Sig Tau Float we all worked on. The frat was in hot pursuit of the athletic championship as the fall semester ended. Athletic Manager Don Stanbury was proud of the first places copped in tennis, golf, and table tennis. In January, we threw Normal's first fraternity-sponsored All-Campus Dance. We were represented by Vice-president Ray Levering at the huge Sigma Tau Gamma National Conclave in December.

Our recording secretary, Ted Briggs; treasurer, Jack Stephan; and parliamentarian, Earl Sussex; along with Sponsor Dr. Carl Erikson; worked hard to make this year another successful one.

zeta chi sigma

Eager for work, the Zeta Chi's returned for their second year of life in their house at 603 W. Cross.

In May, they danced on their popular annual "Spring Cruise." The Zetas became interested both in intramural sports and social affairs. Always ready, Zetas enlisted in every branch of the service.

We were proud to initiate Dr. Harold Wallace and Mr. William Voglesong as our faculty advisors last year and Mr. Richard Giles this year. Their co-operation with Dr. Clarence Loesell, fraternity patron, kept the ball running smoothly.

James Green, president, and Earl Lemon, vice-president, worked hand-in-hand with James Mace, secretary; Harry Davis, treasurer; and our advisory board.

kappa delta pi

Pi Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi has been active on Normal's campus since 1922. It is a national honorary fraternity for junior and senior students specializing in the teaching curriculum.

As a major project this year, the members decided to complete the Roger Arnett Scholarship Fund. Money was earned by the sale of hotdogs, coffee, and other refreshments at the ball games.

The officers are Donald Harrower, president; Al Pomnichowski, vice president; Beverly Schmidt, corresponding secretary; Barbara Blazer, recording secretary; and Dwight Reynolds, treasurer. The adviser is Dr. Carl Erikson.

stoic society

The Stoic Society consists of members who received high scholastic achievement during their freshman year at Normal. As the year began, the group, with Miss Martha Best as sponsor, prepared for the program of traditional activities. The Christmas Party, first outstanding activity for 1950 and 1951, saw the election of new Stoic members. A reception for them was held in January.

The highlight of the year was the annual banquet for Stoics, alumni, and faculty. Pins were presented to new members, and scholarships were awarded to Charlotte Naos, president; Katherine Van Hoy, secretary; Milo Danzeisen, treasurer; and Helen Digon, reporter. The White Elephant sale in April provided funds which made the organization self-supporting. The year was concluded with the May breakfast, at which time future officers and scholarship holders were announced.

pi gamma mu

Pi Gamma Mu, National Honorary Social Science Society, is represented on the campus by Alpha Chapter. Its purpose is to improve scholarship in the social studies and to inspire social service to humanity by an intelligent approach to the solution of social problems.

This year, Alpha Chapter presented a varied and interesting program highlighted by a series of informal discussions between faculty members and club members on current problems of interest. The initiation of new members and the annual picnic in May climaxed the year.

The year's activities were directed by Dr. Paul Hubbell, sponsor; John Snaden, president; Albert Mackolin, vice president; Frances Allen, secretary-treasurer; and George Hewens, corresponding secretary.

pi kappa delta

A national honorary forensic fraternity, Pi Kappa Delta has as its purpose: "to stimulate progress in and to promote the interests of intercollegiate debate, oratory, and public speaking by encouraging a spirit of intercollegiate fellowship, brotherly cooperation and interest, and by conferring upon deserving candidates a badge of distinction, proficiency, and honor, varied and graduated according to merit."

Dr. Joseph Kelly, patron, and the officers: M. Cobbage, president; R. Duke, vice president; J. Covington, secretary; and M. Fortney, treasurer; planned the year's activities.

Delta Xi is the local chapter of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia National Professional Music Fraternity. Men students on campus who demonstrate proficiency in music and have a scholarship average of at least 1.25 are eligible for membership. Its purposes are "to advance the cause of music in America, to foster the mutual welfare and brotherhood of students of music, to develop the truest fraternal spirit among its members, and to encourage loyalty to the Alma Mater." Delta Xi Chapter presents at least one public concert of American music each year. The group tours surrounding communities, presenting the program for high schools.

Officers for this year have been Francis Mansfield, president; Richard Peters, vice president; Richard Slaker, secretary; Robert Wilson, treasurer; Mr. Robert Hoffelt, faculty adviser.

association of childhood education

This past year the future elementary teachers gained much information about children through membership in the Association of Childhood Education. Miss Syverson, the faculty advisor, has helped greatly in planning the club's programs.

Much time was spent learning the technique of operating movie machines. The girls also enjoyed watching the many children's movies with the idea of learning which were the best ones for children.

The A. C. E. members helped Santa Claus at Christmas time by making this a joyous Yuletide season for a poor family in Ypsilanti. The girls spent much time and effort getting baskets of food, clothing, and presents ready to deliver.

In charge of the activities this year were Louise Wilson, president; Marilyn Moore, vice president; Joyce Bird, treasurer; and Madelon Clough, secretary.

At one of the interesting Art Club meetings, Mr. Glow discussed and demonstrated arts and crafts. At another meeting, Mrs. Dart demonstrated water color techniques. The new show cases in the union have provided display of student exhibits.

The Art Club took two trips this year: one trip to Ann Arbor where we saw two movies on water color and heard Don Weisman of Wayne University talk on "Painting for Fun"; and another trip to the Detroit Institute of Arts to hear Robert Motherwell on "The Problems of Contemporary Painting."

Mr. Kingsley Calkins was the faculty adviser. The officers were Virginia Fowler, president; Ray Nichols, vice president; Ruthann Mudge, secretary; and Virginia Frentner, treasurer.

business club

The Business Club had a very successful year. We started off the year with a grand picnic, which some forty-five people attended. We made many new friends and renewed old acquaintances.

Along with our regular business meetings, we were plunged into the midst of Homecoming, and Jim Ferguson and his float committee built a float, which rated honorable mention.

Plans for the spring semester included a square dance, a farewell picnic, and the annual business department banquet for graduating seniors.

The club officers this year were Bernie Miller, president; Alice Mazur, vice president; Dorothy Carroll, secretary and treasurer; Don Wood, reporter; and Miss Anderson, advisor.

chemistry club

This year marks the forty-first year for the Chemistry Club on this campus. It was organized back in 1910 by B. W. Peet, Professor Emeritus. The purpose then as it is now was to further chemistry through a fellowship between the student and teacher.

The program for the year was highlighted by the annual January dinner meeting and the annual alumni banquet in April. At other meetings guest speakers from the University of Michigan were heard and movies showing the interesting aspects of chemistry were shown.

The club this year was lead by James Mace as President, Earl Lemon as Vice-President, and Jack Price as Secretary-Treasurer. The Adviser for the group is Dr. Marvin S. Carr. Dr. Perry Brundage is the patron.

collegiate country life club

Composed primarily of students of the State Limited Curriculum who are preparing to teach in rural areas, the Collegiate Country Life Club helps the students become better acquainted with teaching in rural districts.

Under the capable leadership of Loretha Fuller and sponsors, Miss Ethel O'Connor and Mr. George Ebeling, the club had an eventful year. In order to get better acquainted with each other, the members planned a weiner roast at Sleepy Hollow. During the year the club had many speakers to enlighten them on the hows, whys, and wheres of their future teaching positions. To climax their season they gave a picnic in honor of the graduating seniors at Recreational Park.

To help achieve the aims of the club were Jeanette Lawrence, vice-president; Betty Jones, secretary; and Phylliss Myers, treasurer.

The nation-wide collegiate debate topic for the year has been—Resolved: That non-Communitistic nations should form a new international organization. The twenty-six debaters were extremely active this year, traveling from place to place debating the question. They won over half of the one hundred sixty-five debates in which they participated.

Besides the debates in Michigan, the squad attended the following out-state tournaments: the University of Illinois Invitational Debate Tournament at Chicago; the Illinois State University Invitational Tournament which fifty-five colleges attended from twenty states; the Great Lakes Invitational Tournament at Bowling Green, Ohio, and the Bowling Green Invitational Tournament.

The debate group is directed and coached by Mr. Raymond Daniels.

english club

Among the many purposes of the English Club are to develop a broad and sympathetic understanding for literature, to present opportunities for creative writing, and to stimulate a well-rounded interest in the problems of the English teacher.

During the year many programs were heard including speeches by Dr. Warren Rice, head of the University of Michigan English Department; Mr. Harvey Gross, music critic for the Michigan Daily; and Dr. Alice Bensen, Professor of English at Normal.

The major project for the year was a literary contest with prizes for the best short story, poem, essay, and one-act play. The winners were announced at the Spring Picnic.

Helping Miss Florence Eckert, sponsor, guide the club were Elsie Johnson, president; Marian Opel, vice president; and Marilyn Nanry, secretary-treasurer.

gavel and rostrum

Although a comparatively new organization, the Gavel and Rostrum had developed tremendously since its birth.

Under the able leadership of President Vincent Petitpren and Sponsor Dr. Sattler, the club has added many new activities to its program. It being the main purpose of the club to encourage all those students interested in all forms of speech and dramatics, the club has undertaken many interesting programs. The members of the club not only gave speeches, but they also had films, picnics, hayrides, dances, guest speakers, and have attended professional play productions.

The other officers, Vice President Dan Julien, Secretary Joan Jensen, Treasurer Natalie Davis, and Corresponding secretary Norma Spreeman, planned an initiation dinner for the new members in June at which they were presented with pins.

history club

This club, open to all students who major or minor in history or social science, meets monthly and presents programs both educational and social. The annual fall picnic was held at Professor Fagerstrom's home, when freshmen members were welcomed. As its contribution to the All-College Christmas Party, the club showed kodachrome slides of the Centennial. Before Professor Fagerstrom left for Mexico he gave a talk on previous experiences there.

The Washington Birthday celebration, originated by the late Professor Pray, a speech by Professor Slosson of U. of M. on current world crises, and the spring picnic ended the year's activities. Honorary memberships were extended to some of the faculty.

The club was led by Al Makolin, Beverly Chrobak, Martha Beall, Dorothy Carroll, and Dick DeBoer. Miss Elizabeth Warren was the sponsor.

home economics club

The Home Economics Club provides an opportunity for those who have a common interest in the field of Home Economics to become better acquainted and to promote a professional interest. Activities for the year included the initiation of new members, picnics, the Christmas Dinner (an annual affair to which the parents are invited), a talk on Interior Decoration by Mr. Bradshaw of the J. L. Hudson Company, a food demonstration, and other demonstrations. The Club is affiliated with the American Home Economics Association and the Michigan Home Economics Association. Donna Kern served as State vice-president throughout the year.

The officers of the Club, for the past year were: Marilyn Cashmore, president; Margaret Kovitz, vice-president; Jeannine Rochon, secretary; Margaret Wilson, treasurer; and Joan Schiwol, reporter. Miss Clara Kelly is the Club sponsor. Other faculty members are Miss Estelle Bauch, Miss Eula Underbrink, Miss Janet Myers, and Miss Faith Kiddoo.

industrial arts club

The Industrial Arts Club, headed by President Larry Rogers and the sponsor, Mr. Willoughby, had a very eventful year.

The club, open to all majors and minors, has carried out many worthwhile projects. The making of toys for unfortunate children at Christmas was one of the most outstanding projects the club carried out. The members spent many hours in making these toys. However, they knew it was for a good purpose, and this made the work seem easier.

Their weekly programs were well planned with square dancing, parties, films, and such noted speakers as Marshall Byrn from the University of Michigan, speaking on metal crafts, and Mr. Eckley from the Ypsilanti Press.

The Vice President, Dwight Reynolds, and Secretary-Treasurer, William Bridges, planned a picnic in honor of the seniors to climax the year.

international relations club

Every Thursday evening a group of Michigan Normal students is to be found in McKenny Hall indulging in spirited debate and discussion. These students are members of the International Relations Club who, under the leadership of their president, Moyne Cabbage, discuss topics of international and domestic interest. The I.R.C. believes that the only way to accept the challenge which the world has placed before it is through free and open discussion. Its policy is to hear all sides of a question discussed and to leave the formulation of a decision to the individual. The motto of the club may very well be Voltaire's statement: "I disapprove of what you say, but I will defend to the death your right to say it."

Dr. Haward Blackenburg and Dr. Fred Ericson, both of the History Department, are the sponsors of the I.R.C.

library club

Founded in the fall of 1950, the Library Club was established for the main purpose of encouraging interest in Library Science. The hope of this organization is to stimulate future members and to foster a closer feeling of unity among library students. The club is open to all people with a major or minor in the School Library Service.

Officers for this year were the following: Emily Bailey, president; Dorothy Johnson, secretary; Delores Davis, treasurer.

The activities of the group have included meetings scheduled once each month. Guest speakers, describing the various activities associated with Library work, social hours, and a picnic in the spring for graduating seniors were had for interest.

Much of the success of the Library Club is attributed to the teaching members of the library staff.

mathematics club

The mathematics club opened the school year early with an organizational meeting at which plans were made for future meetings. The group was ably directed this year by Edessell Hotchkiss as president and Mr. Hilton Falahee and Mr. Edmund Goings as co-sponsors.

At the first regular meeting last fall, Dr. Carl Erikson addressed the group on the history of mathematics. Other highlights of the year were the annual Christmas party held at Starkweather Hall, a talk by Mr. Edmund Goings on "Probability," a panel discussion by students and faculty members at which the problems confronting those student teachers in the mathematics field were discussed.

The election of new officers was held in April. The school year was closed by the annual picnic held in Sleepy Hollow in May.

music club

The music club, composed of major and minors and other interested students, attempts to foster a professional attitude among its members.

The club functioned effectively this year under the presidency of Paul Niccolli. Jane Redman served as vice-president. The secretary-treasurer was Pauline Fleshner. Miss Dorothy Jones was the faculty sponsor.

Included in the social calendar for the year were many interesting and enjoyable activities. The club began the year with a get-acquainted picnic at Recreation Park. Formal initiation was this year, as every year, an outstanding event. The most outstanding meeting this year was the one of which a panel discussion was held by three of the alumni, who returned to tell of the conditions which confront music teachers.

natural science club

The closing year has seen the Natural Science Club involved in a variety of activities which were designed to be enjoyable and edifying. There was, however, one aspect which never varied and that was a plentitude of food and drink at every meeting.

The forays and hikes satisfied the demands of even the most avid students of Nature. Especially the foray to the Waterloo Recreation Area.

To determine among the lectures and movies shown would be very difficult. However, the program on the Aleutian Islands brought to the audience a poignant picture of the plight of our fellow country men.

Any and all success of the club in achieving its aims may be attributed to the efforts of Ed Key, president; Bob Groy, vice-president; Doris Kemp, secretary; Bev Chrobak, treasurer; and our sponsor, Mr. Belcher.

occupational therapy club

The Occupational Therapy Club has presented a varied and interesting program of activities to its members this year. The year was opened in the fall with a corn roast in the city park for all students on the O. T. curriculum.

Many times this year, the Rackham children have been feted by the O. T. Club. At Christmas the club presented a play for them as well as the patients at the Ypsilanti State Hospital. At Easter the club gave an Easter egg hunt for the children, and, at this time, the annual presentation of the Elliott Book was made.

Several former students have returned many times this year to give the highlights of their experiences as staff members in nearby Occupational Therapy departments. We have also been very fortunate in securing many educational films and craft demonstrations throughout the year.

physical education club

The Physical Education Club began the 1950 year with a big Hobo Party under the direction of Miss Harris.

The boxing tournament sponsored by the club proved to be a great success, thanks to the efforts of Mr. Steel and the participants who put on a grand show.

A talk given by Dr. Olds at one of our meetings on the history of Physical Education at Michigan State Normal College emphasized the excellent record we must maintain.

It has been a custom since 1921 that the club sponsor a circus bi-annually. This affords an opportunity for members of the Physical Education department as well as members of other departments to combine their talents in presenting a circus which is open to the public. The students are given an opportunity to gain practical experience in all types of work concerned with such things as production-costuming, publicity, make-up, dancing, and gymnastics to mention just a few. This year the circus was under the direction of Miss Augusta Harris and Mr. Harry Ockerman.

A big event this spring was the Physical Education convention held in Detroit. Some of the main events of the convention were demonstrations in modern dance, folk dance, and square dances. Many round table discussions on the problems confronting the physical education teacher today were scheduled.

The club functioned efficiently this year under the student leadership of the following: Edward Schultz, president; Joseph Brodie, vice-president; Joan Eberts, treasurer; and Irene Donnelly, secretary. Faculty advisors for the year were Miss Dorothy Copony, Mrs. Robert Borusch, and Mr. Arthur Steel.

Modern Dance Club began the year with an introductory party for prospective members at which their new instructor, Miss Marilyn Begole, was introduced by Miss Jane Brint, former instructor, who was leaving to be married.

Members became jesters and danced at the coronation of the Homecoming Queen.

At the Christmas Sing, they did their traditional dance to "Carol of the Bells," wearing short, red skirts decorated with silver tinsel and bells.

When the All-College Circus came along in March, the members donned long ballet costumes and danced the opening number under the big top. Their frothy white costumes made a striking appearance beneath the soft blue lights.

Orchesis officers were Berni Lichty, president; Claire Jacobs, vice-president; Dottie Robertson and Peggy Green, secretaries; and Jenny Ivan, treasurer.

special education club

The Special Education Club is an organization which aims to give a further understanding of the problems of the exceptional child, to bring closer contact between workers and students in the field, and to create and maintain high standards of scholarship. This year the club affiliated with the International Council of Exceptional Children, and it has benefited from the Council's lectures and its publication, The Journal for Exceptional Children.

Under the able direction of its officers: Pat Lambert, president; John Valusek, vice-president; Mary Beth Baker, secretary; and Eleanor Smith, treasurer; the club participated in many of the regular college activities. In March the annual party was given for the Rackham Dormitory children, and in April the club members took over the Rackham School for a day.

womens' recreational association

Under the able leadership of Lois Clements, the W. R. A. Board has continued its work of organizing and supervising intermural athletics for women students.

Beginning work immediately, a Sports Day was sponsored, last fall, by the organization for high school students interested in physical education.

Barbara Hale, noted camp leader, addressed the group on school camping. W. R. A. members enjoyed a weekend of camping at Mehia, in the Irish Hills.

A new petition system for the election of officers was instituted this past winter. A booklet describing the origin and nature of the W. R. A. on this campus was also compiled.

Our girls did an excellent job in working with other college groups to plan a National meeting of the A. F. C. W. in Ann Arbor.

The board extends an invitation to you to participate in the various activities sponsored by the W. R. A.

student religious association

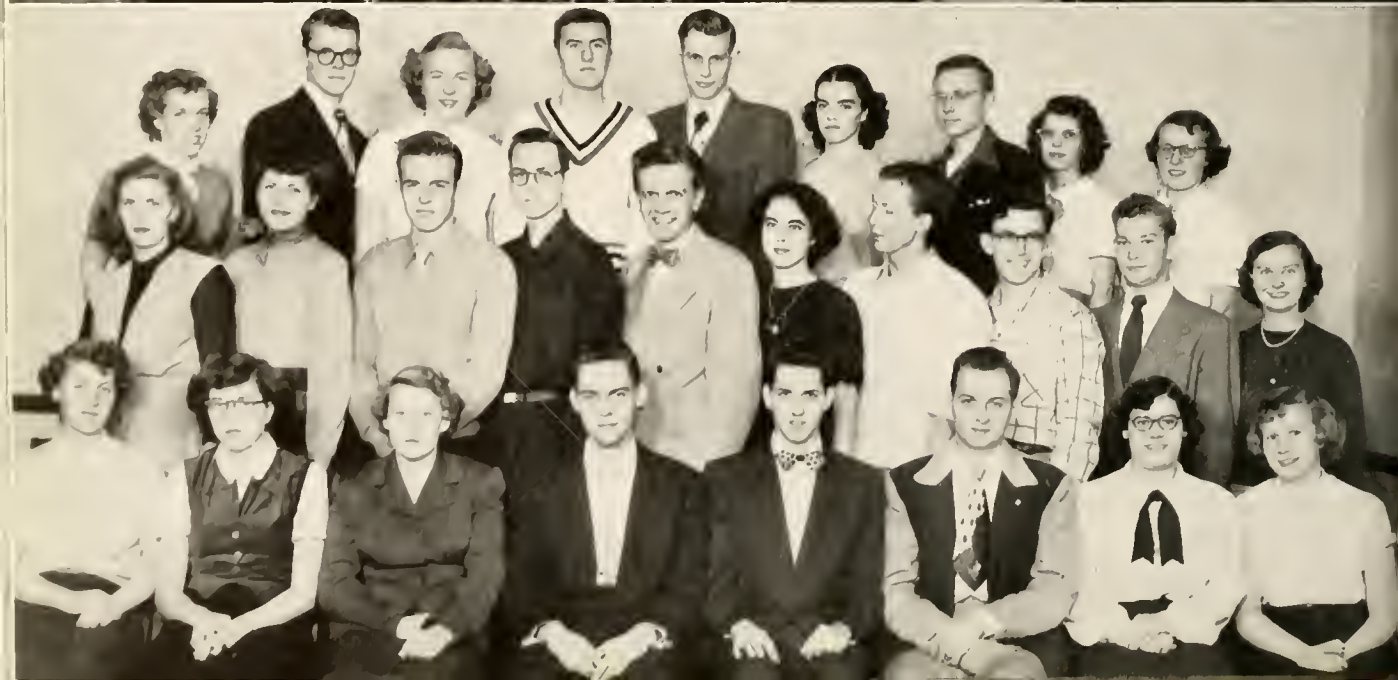

An unassuming, but nevertheless important, organization is the Student Religious Association which represents all faiths on the campus—Protestant, Catholic, and Jewish. It is the job of the S. R. A. here at Normal to help make the students away from home feel at home, as well as to inspire student participation in the services of the local church of his choice. The group also aims to promote understanding and fellowship among the various church groups, to sponsor S. R. A. intergroup activities, and to cooperate with national and international student organizations.

The most frequent activity of the S. R. A. was the weekly coffee hour at Starkweather Hall, the official home of the organization. These Wednesday afternoon coffee hours were informal gatherings where students and faculty alike had an opportunity to become better acquainted while relaxing over some tasty refreshments.

Some of the other projects of the S. R. A. were two highly successful all-college square dances, one during each of the two semesters; an intergroup dinner for anyone in the college community who wished to attend; and an intergroup meeting with Dr. Hazzard of Illinois Wesleyan University as guest speaker. The organization also has helped with many campus activities such as the All-College Christmas Party. It sponsored clean-up days at Starkweather and workshop retreats as well.

Robert Harris served as president of the group, and his companion officers were Walter McDonald, vice-president, and Earlene Liedel, secretary-treasurer. Dr. Carl Erikson and Mrs. Leonard Menzi were the co-directors of the S. R. A.

the christian youth fellowship

The Christian Youth Fellowship is an organization for Baptist, Congregational, and Presbyterian students on campus. The club has enjoyed a very worth while year under the leadership of Harold Sole as president and Miss Ester Kennedy as director.

Beginning the year immediately the group sponsored an Opening Party for freshmen and transfers. A formal banquet honoring the seniors was held in May. In June the group sponsored their annual retreat. The season was closed with an alumni picnic held at Recreation Park.

The club was fortunate in securing many outstanding speakers this year. Among them were Dr. Westcott who discussed missionary work in Africa. Dr. Morgan addressed the group on music appreciation. Several Chinese students from the University of Michigan addressed the group as well on their worship experiences.

the inter-varsity christian fellowship

The Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship is an inter-denominational organization open to all students on campus.

Many outstanding speakers such as Mr. James Young, Registrar of the Detroit Institute of Technology, were heard at the meetings. One meeting featured the unusual and wonderful things of nature portrayed in a color film, "God of Creation."

In October several members attended a fall conference with the Inter-Varsity group from Ann Arbor where they heard Reverend Stern of Toronto speak. Social activities began with an erie note as everyone invaded the Halloween "Spook Shack." Christmas caroling at hospitals was another highpoint in the year's varied events.

This year's officers were: President, Katherine Van Hoy; Vice-President, Marian Holt; Secretary, Mary Wilcox; and Treasurer, Joan Rosegart.

lutheran students association

The Lutheran Students Association is an organization of Lutheran students representing all synods on campus. The association became active this year after a brief absence from the campus and has managed along with reorganizations to carry on a fine program of weekly devotional and social meetings. During the month of March the association served refreshments to students and faculty members at the S. R. A. Coffee Hour in Starkweather Hall.

The aim of the Lutheran Student Association is to provide Christian fellowship and pastoral guidance for Lutheran students away from their home youth groups and churches.

The officers for the fall semester were President, Larry Runstrom; Vice-President, Charles Hilston; Corresponding Vice-President, Joyce Fox; Secretary-Treasurer, Evelyn Sipe; and Sgt. at Arms, Wollace Wadtke.

newman club

The Newman Club extends its hand to welcome all Catholic students of M.S.N.C. It is the student organization of St. John the Baptist Roman Catholic Church. The Newman Club aims to further enrich the spiritual, intellectual, and social lives of its members. Activities started off this year with an Open House at which both old and new members were welcomed. Meetings were held, followed by talks by our Chaplain, Father Wm. Hunt. A Retreat and a Communion Breakfast, led by Father Schlinkert, were held this year. They proved stimulating and beneficial in these troubled times. The faculty advisor is Mr. H. Falahee. Officers for the year were: R. Lisowski, president; D. Smoker, vice-president; F. Allen, secretary; E. Johnson, corresponding vice-president; and E. Pochodylo, treasurer.

wesley foundation

This year marks the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Wesley Foundation at Michigan State Normal College. The purpose of the organization is to provide a Christian atmosphere in which young men and women may find opportunities for religious leadership and possibilities for wholesome recreation and fellowship.

Among the year's more important events were an inter-denominational Christmas dinner, the twenty-fifth anniversary banquet, fireside discussions and a spiritual life retreat in February. Members of our organization attended a student conference in Columbus, Ohio, and a citizenship seminar in Washington, D.C., and Lake Success, New York.

The foundation mission project for this year is the support of a student in college in France. The President for the year is Dan Camp. Jean Woodworth, Barbara Borgen and Diane Rorabacher are the other officers.

choir

The Michigan Normal Choir is a select group of advanced singers who rehearse regularly every Tuesday and Thursday from three to four o'clock. This group works on varied types of music, memorizing numbers for program presentation, and sight-reading other compositions for choral experience and training. Although there are several competent accompanists within the group, many of the numbers are done A Capella. Music majors belonging to the choir receive valuable suggestions for future teaching reference.

In the past year, the choir has taken an active part in various college activities and local community programs. During the Christmas season the group sang at the annual Christmas party and presented programs for the Kiwanis Club and the Methodist Church. They made a recording of Christmas music to be presented for the College of the Air series on Station WHRV and also sang traditional carols in many buildings on campus.

During the second semester, the Choir took part in the Palm Sunday Concert, the program of operatic music presented in May, and the commencement exercises. The group also visited several high schools and sang for their assemblies.

The Choir is under the direction of Mr. Haydn Morgan, head of the Music Department.

choral union

The Choral Union consists of a large group of students who have an interest in and an appreciation of good music. These students meet regularly for one hour every Tuesday and Thursday evening. Throughout the year this group provides musical entertainment of fine quality.

This year Choral Union presented several programs. Among these were the annual Christmas Concert, the Palm Sunday Concert, the program of operatic selections presented in May, and Baccalaureate.

The Choral Union, which is open to all students, consists of the Choir, the Women's Chorus, the Men's Chorus, and the Freshman Girls' Vocal Ensemble. Mr. Haydn Morgan, head of the Music Department, conducts this group. He is assisted by Mr. Robert Hoffelt, who directs the Men's Chorus, and by Mr. John Elwell, who directs both the Women's Chorus and The Freshman Girls' Vocal Ensemble.

orchestra

The Normal College Orchestra has continued the tradition of giving fine performances of good music. Several concerts were given during each of the two semesters. Outstanding among them were two high school concerts, one at Carlton High School and one at our own Lincoln Consolidated School, on April 3; the concert presented at the Music Festival at Hartland, Michigan, on April 23; and the concert in conjunction with the Choral Union. One of these featured the soloists; Mary Nigro Poor, flute; Mary Troub, oboe; and Pauline Fleshner, harp.

In addition to the presentation of concerts, the orchestra always furnished some special music for the Baccalaureate exercises.

From an education standpoint, the orchestra serves as a laboratory for reading new music and gives students a chance to become better acquainted with some of the standard literature.

Under the capable direction of Mr. William D. Fitch, the orchestra has afforded the campus much pleasure during the past year.

The Michigan State Normal College Band made an impressive sight in their green and white uniforms while they furnished half-time shows for all of the home games. The Band added materially to the enjoyment of the spectators with both their music and their demonstrations.

At the completion of the football season the Men's Union and the Women's League sponsored a banquet in honor of the members of the band. The speaker for the evening was Dale McIntyre of WJR.

After the football season, the band turned its attention to concert work. This year's series, which included a concert in January and another in April, was highlighted by an outdoor concert held at Briggs field in May. The band also made several trips to complete their year.

The band was conducted by Mr. William D. Fitch.

the normal college news

Once a week, the official student publication of the college, the Normal College News, goes to press. Every Thursday afternoon, the News is distributed to the student body, and every Thursday afternoon ends another week of hope and worry for the staff.

As Thursday afternoon ends one week for the Normal News staff, it also begins a new week of planning and working for the next issue; for on Thursday the editorial staff issues the weekly assignments for the next issue.

Friday and Saturday are dedicated to the reporting of week-end events, the picture-taking, and the mental-planning of layout and arrangement.

Sunday, the pictures are sent out to the engravers in order to have them in time for publication.

Monday, the assignments begin trickling in, the features are written, and rough drafts of the editorials are made.

WARREN, GAUSS, TYRRELL

GETTING LAST MINUTE INSTRUCTIONS

Tuesday finds the process working up to a climax with the assignments and other news arriving in quantity. The rewriting, the proofing, and the preparation of the copy for printers takes care of that day.

Wednesday, the last minute stories are written and the layout begins. First, the tear sheet proofs, then the page proofs, and another paper is put to bed by a weary group.

Finally, Thursday and the worries disappear because it is now too late to do anything about them, and the staff and the college look over the finished product.

"What's that? Six pages for next week?" And again the battle is on.

ANOTHER WEDNESDAY NIGHT

From Manko to Warren was the featured pass play of the season with the Normal College News as Walt Manko turned over the resigns of the official college publication to Jim Warren in February, 1951. The two men each spent a semester endeavoring to make the News the voice of the student body of MSNC.

Walt's graduation at the end of the fall semester brought to a close a year of editing the News, preceded by three years of service as a reporter and the advertising manager. Walt's main ambition was to produce a paper to which the college could point with pride.

Jim continued the efforts of his predecessor in trying to produce a truly good newspaper. Only a sophomore, Jim's rise on the News has been rapid. He began as a reporter and soon became a feature writer and finally assistant editor.

John Errante began the school year as assistant editor but gave up the journalistic life in favor of married life in December. Assuming the assistant editor's duties in the spring semester was an active junior, Betty Lou Gauss.

A perennial strong section of the Normal News was the Sport Section under the direction of a veteran sports writer, Marben Graham.

And only with a Business Department could the paper operate. Roger "Tweet" Tyrrell, business manager, and Jerry Grove advertising manager, made it financially possible to go to press every week.

But to the unsung members of the staff, the reporters, goes the credit for a good paper.

Bringing to you a pictorial story of the past school year, is the main objective of the AURORA. Many hours of hard work go into preparing a book of this kind.

The editing of the book was handled by Donna Frede, Editor; Helen Digon, Asst. Editor; and many other staff members. Payment of the bills was done by Dave Young, Business Manager.

Silver keys were given in recognition for the fine work rendered by the students for work on the AURORA.

Led by Captain Jim Wichterman, a senior, the Hurons romped over Northern Michigan in the season's finale by a 45-0 score. Wichterman opened the game's scoring by snagging a forty-yard touchdown pass from Sophomore Chuck Paige to start the Huron attack rolling. During the game Paige threw 32 passes, completing 21 for 298 yards and four touchdowns. He also kicked three extra points. For the whole year the Green and White T-quarterback was one of the nation's top small-college passers. In this rout of Northern, Chuck Skinner and Eddie Skowneski each scored three touchdowns.

Skowneski was the whole show in the victory over Hope's Dutchmen. He scored all three touchdowns in the 19-6 victory and lugged the ball for well over a hundred yards in his collegiate debut. The victory over Ball State was accomplished, chiefly, by outstanding defensive work by the Hurons. Harry Miol, Dick Walden, and Captain-elect Ken Wegner were especially effective in the line to bring about the 13-0 verdict.

Coaches Harry Ockerman and Arch Steel did an excellent job in building this team from one which had lost eight straight the year before. Next year's outfit should be even better with some material up from Jock Begelman and Jerry Raymond's fine freshman team. Although the team finished in the league cellar, it won three non-conference games and looked great in the last game with Northern Michigan.

Eight of the starting eleven will be back next year led by co-captains Ken Wegner, a tackle, and Joe Brodie, an end. Four of the starting lineup were sophomores.

outstanding players of '50

The two standouts in Michigan Normal's 1950 football team were Eddie Skowneski, a sophomore, and Harry Mial, a senior. Skowneski, a slippery 5'5" halfback, was the squad's leading ground-gainer and scored three touchdowns in each of the victories over Hope and Northern Michigan. Mial, a rough-and-tumble guard, was valuable on both offense and defense and frequently played the part of the fifth man in the opposing backfield. Both helped to hold the team together through a mediocre season of 3-6, which, nevertheless, was a great improvement over last year's 0-8 record. Michigan Normal, a new member of the IIAC, lost its conference opener to Northern Illinois 35-13 and proceeded to finish up in the league cellar with a 0-4 record. The tenseness of the battle with NI is seen by a fifty-yard-line view of the game. The Huskies presented a strong team with a huge fullback, but the Hurons, led by Skowneski, Mial, Chuck Skinner, Capt. Jim Wicterman, and Wardell Gilliam did their best. This, unfortunately, was not good enough. Other conference losses were to Illinois Normal, Central Michigan, and Southern Illinois. Illinois Normal was league champ. Graduating seniors are: Capt. Wicterman, Mial, Dean Cook, John Buchalski, Norm Krawczak, Al Bloomer, Dick Walden, Gilliam, Don Duff, and Tom Roneoli. Mial, from Mt. Clemens, was honored by being named to all IIAC teams.

The Huron harriers won their first dual meets over Ohio Wesleyan, Ball State, and Bowling Green, but lost to Miami. Paced by Eddie Aylmer who took first, they were runner-up in the National Junior AAU. Normal took fourth in the Central Collegiates and seventh in the National Collegiates. Three seniors were on the team.

Captain Mike Duszynski led the team to a 4-1 record. But even the opponents followed Eddie Aylmer, the buzzard's bay ace—national junior AAU champion.

Head Coach, George Marshall, Assistant Coach, Dick Lee, and Captain Dan Beck formed a three-fold brain trust for the 1951 varsity track team. Marshall produced another top-notch outfit which again was ranked as "Best College Team in the Nation." Lee proved a valuable right-hand man.

Led by Captain Beck, who ran many outstanding races in the middle distances, the thin clads won their share of trophies, medals, and first-place wrist watches in the big relay meets. Beck ran a 1:58 half indoors and was expected to do even better outdoors since he ran a 1:55 as a junior. He is the defending state intercollegiate 880 champ.

Bibbs proved himself one of the nation's top dashmen by tying the world's record of 6.1 in the 60-yard dash. Tim Keyes was his top running-mate. Senior pole vaulter and hurdler Don Harrower was another valuable point-winner for the Hurons.

John Koczman and Bernie Miller were an outstanding 1-2 punch in the shot put. Big Hohn was gunning for the school record of 50'7". Milt Powers, Colan McGlown, Len Porterfield, Jerry Brock, Doug Stringer, and Bob Acre were other good field events men.

Eddie Aylmer and Ben Moring were outstanding in the distance events. Aylmer ran a 9:39 indoor two-mile while "Parson Ben" hit a 4:21 mile and a 1:57 half. Bruce Jacobs and Carl Dahlstrom both broke two minutes for the 880 indoor.

the champions

As has been the custom for Michigan State Normal track teams under George Marshall and his predecessor, Llayd Olds, the Hurons brought in their usual overabundance of "silverware" from the nation's large meets. The highlights of the indoor season were the dual meet victory over Notre Dame and the watch-grabbing festival at Purdue.

The Michigan AAU and State Relays provided two triumphs in each to open the season. Bibbs won in each and tied a record while the mile relay set a record at MSC. The Huron Relays provided a complete rout over Bowling Green and Wayne.

The mile relay team, consisting of Bob Parks, Abe Ulmer, Ward Gilliam, and Stan McConner, was the most consistent winner all year, setting two school indoor records as well as three meet marks. Their time against Notre Dame was 3:22.5 for a record and they also beat Michigan's foursome. The squad put up a good battle but lost to the Wolverines, 72-42.

MSNC beat Marquette and Baldwin Wallace in dual meets and ran in the Cleveland Relays, Milwaukee Journal Meet, C.C.C. Meet, Daily News Relays to conclude a highly successful indoor campaign.

Although finishing the season with only a 7-13 mark, Normal's 1950-51 cagers were much better than their wins and losses showed. After walloping Adrian and Hillsdale in their first two starts, the hoopsters hit an unlucky streak that plagued them all year. The Hurons lost by two points to Northern Illinois twice, one point to Southern Illinois, and six points to the University of Detroit. The inability to hold onto a lead in the fourth quarter was an important factor in these lasses. The Southern game, an 85-84 loss in three overtimes, was one of the highest scoring games ever seen in the state. The Hurons tied with Central Michigan for sixth place in the I. I. A. C. Eastern Illinois was the best team they faced all year.

The only road games the Hurons won were the return games with Adrian and Hillsdale, but the home highlights of the season were the upsets of Central Michigan and Wayne and the close 64-60 loss to the U. of D.

Captain Wargo, Captain-elect Collins, Bob Sims, and Harry Fosdick led Coach Bill Crouch's starting five. Center Stan Tomczyk, with 250 points, was high scorer for the year with Wargo and Sims close behind. Owen Jax, Joe Brodie, and Cruck Paige were the top reserves. Other members of the squad were Carl Tschirhart, Ralph Grubb, Al Schalge, and Hal Purves.

baseball

After a winning, but at times unimpressive, record in 1950—ten games won and six lost, the Michigan Normal baseball team looked for an even better mark in 1951. Captain Daug Cossey, the slugging catcher, led the team in '50 and was rewarded with a Chicago White Sox contract when the season ended. Second baseman Bob Shankie was elected to lead the '51 aggregation.

Five returning lettermen will be back to help Coach Bill Crouch mold a winning outfit in the Inter-collegiate Athletic Association. They are: pitchers Art Sheridan and Al Berg and infielders Frank Velchansky, Marv Streit, and Captain Shankie.

The team will be hurt by the graduation of pitcher Jim Martin; infielder Dan Leuker; outfielders Art Harper, Orlando Caputa, Howie McNally, and Paul Wilder; and catchers Ted Bott, Jerry Raymond, and Daug Cassey; but the revoking of the frash rule and the outstanding crap of saphamores will help to compensate for this loss.

Several saphamores are expected to help the team greatly as well as numerasus freshmen.

The 1951 schedule includes games with all the IIAC schaals as well as Hillsdale, MSC, and Wayne.

intramural sports

Again, Intramural Athletics moved along at a smooth pace for the year 1950-51 with Dr. Lloyd W. Olds at the helm. Harold Bradshaw was student manager for the first semester with Ralph Larsen taking over for the second term. Glenn Thompson and Don Mack were the assistants.

The Arm of Honor played to a tie in the championship frat football game, 0-0. The re-play found the Phi Sigs on the short end, 7-6. The Hammerheads then beat the dorm champs, Brown III, to gain the mythical All-Campus title. The All-Campus cross country run was won by Freshman Henry Lewis over a two-mile course.

The Phi Delts and Phi Sigs battled it out for the basketball title with the Delts winning the deciding game by four points. Swimming went to the Arm of Honor over the defending Phi Sigs in a close one with four records broken in the process. Brown III and Munson I were the top dorm cage outfits.

Bowling went to the Hammerheads while tennis and ping pong went to the Sig Taus. In volleyball the Kappa Phis dominated the frat league with the Ypsi Independents winning the dorm crown. The Kappa Phis and Sig Taus were the top linksmen of the campus. Badminton, softball, and Sigma Delta Psi trials were the spring sports as well as all-campus tournaments in free throws, handball, and other activities.

The yearly championships were being hotly contested in both leagues. The Sig Taus, Arm of Honor, Phi Delts, Kappa Phis and Phi Sigs were in the thick of the frat race while Brown III, Munson I, and the Independents were battling in the dorm circuit to top the point standings.

With each manager working in coordination with the W. R. A. executive board, women turned out with great zeal for the many sports that were offered. Field hockey fans played other well-known colleges such as the U. of M., Albion, and Bowling Green this year; and, incidentally, the girls made a nice showing for themselves. Bowling, a continuous athletic event, was the favored sport for many girls and teams; and the bowling banquet on January 25 with the distinguished Val Mikiel as speaker gave many girls helpful hints in this recreational field.

Volleyball and basketball took the spotlight during the winter weather with the "Goodison Girls" edging ahead of their rival team. Badminton and tennis workouts followed the major sports while softball came into its own as soon as the weather permitted. Archery, too, called many girls out of their dorms during the warm fall and spring days. Credit is due to the members of the swimming club who, through hard work and cooperation and fun, produced an excellent water pageant. In addition to our other activities a co-recreation square dance club was authorized by the W. R. A. board, and it promises to be a welcome and enjoyable recreation.

This year, at a renewed picnic, the two "M" pins, the highest women's athletic award, were presented to two outstanding senior members of the recreation association. Congratulations to these two girls on their excellent cooperation, leadership, and high standards for receiving these honor pins.

With the help of our new faculty advisor, Miss Leslie; the W. R. A. board; and the college women; Normal has an active sports program for women. Next year we hope to see You participating along with the rest of us.

A LESS SERIOUS MOMENT

In July of 1948, Dr. Eugene B. Elliott assumed his duties as President of Michigan State Normal College. Prior to this time, Dr. Elliott had held the position of State Superintendent of Public Instruction. He is known throughout the state as an active and able educator.

Dr. Elliott received both his Bachelor of Arts and his Master of Arts degrees from Michigan State College and his Doctor of Philosophy degree from the University of Michigan.

He is a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon, Phi Delta Kappa, Phi Beta Kappa, the American Research Association, the American Association of School Administrators, and the National Association of State School Chief Officers. He is also the Secretary of the Executive Committee of the American Council on Education.

Under Dr. Elliott's able administration, Michigan State Normal College has made many advances along the road to democratic school organization. Important organizations such as the Student Council, first saw the light of day during Dr. Elliott's administration. Students and faculty alike are encouraged to work together in an effort to effect a more harmonious relationship.

ORDER PLEASE

The last few weeks of our four year course at Normal were filled with many gala affairs which we shall never forget.

One of the largest was the Senior Ball which was held June 15, the evening before we walked across the stage to receive our diplomas. The Ball was one of the most spectacular affairs put on in the history of our college. Yes, it even out did that great piece of work of last year which set a very high precedent for all future classes. The theme of the dance was taken from Paris. The Fred Green Ballroom was decorated as a sidewalk cafe, "Parisilenne Terrace." The music was furnished by none other than Jahnny Long and his orchestra. This was another outstanding formal affair to have a name band at Normal.

In the afternoon of June 9, the annual Senior picnic was held in Sleepy Hollow with plenty of food and fun.

HOW MUCH DO WE HAVE TO SPEND?

class of 1951

The Senior Class of 1951 injected at least two innovations into the class program during the year, and each proved to be a stimulating success.

The first of these innovations was a stage production that met with great acclaim. It had been an observation of a good many people that much talent had gone unnoticed on the campus for many years. Deciding to take advantage of this talent, the class produced a musical comedy. This was the first production on the campus to be completely written, directed, and acted by the student body; and "Go Get 'Em," as the show was called, was a long step forward in campus entertainment. Many students worked three hours a day for almost three months on the show, and such an amount of time is an enormous sacrifice on any student's time. However, the hard work of all who took part in presenting the production was well rewarded through the unanimous appreciation that the college showed for their efforts.

The other major program was a graduation dance for the class members graduating in February. Because of the existing conditions that would take many of the men off to the armed forces, it was felt that this departing class should have a farewell dance.

We owe many things to many people, but we do not consider these as debts; for debts are obligations, and we do not wish to feel obligated. Instead, we would like to feel that what has been done for us has gone towards the formation of a very strong loyalty and an equally strong friendship among those concerned.

THE END IS HERE!

CLASS OF '52

"Anything worth getting is worth fighting for and anything worth doing is worth doing well." This is the code under which the class of 1952 has operated since their arrival here at Michigan Normal in September of 1948.

Under the capable leadership of Milo Danzeisen, President; Glen Goerke, Vice-President; Doris Eakle, Secretary; and Don Ross, Treasurer, the Junior Class turned in a fine record. This school year 1950-51 started with a mild explosion for the Juniors and gradually built up to the unforgettable J-Hop venture.

In spite of weeks of hesitation, uncertainty and worry the 1951 J-Hop committee headed by Betty Keller and Jim Gillster came through with a very successful dance. Denying tradition the dance was held in the gym instead of the Union and with the elaborate Greek motif decorations one could hardly tell the difference.

When the Juniors set the goal for ticket sales at 400, tremendous scepticism was voiced, but with unceasing determination the class staged such an elaborate publicity campaign that they not only met their goal but topped it with an extra one. This feat gave them the title "The Little Class That Could."

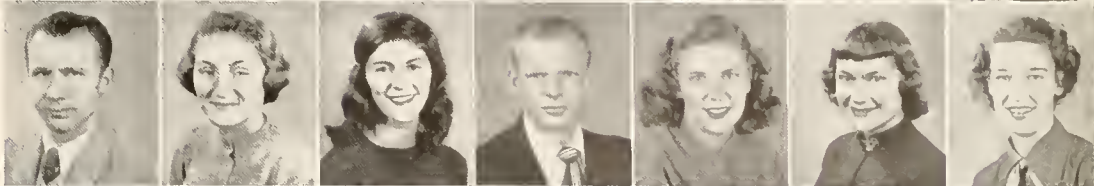

The wire voice recording booth at the All-Campus Christmas Party and the Junior-Sophomore picnic were the other two big events on the calendar of this year's Junior Class. A vote of thanks is to be extended to Mr. Goings, who as sponsor helped the class through a very successful year.

Taking time out for a "short one"

"Dancing in the Parthenon"

"THE GRECIAN AFFAIR"

A Grecian atmosphere pervaded one of the finest dances given at Normal. To prove it was "One Touch of Venus," there were white pillars, heavy black drapes 24 feet high, statues of Greek goddesses lounging in the gum, soft blue lighting, and in the Parthenon, Gene Krupa.

Although the "King of the Drums" originally gained his fame with frenzied jazz beats, he is the first to admit that the age of blatant swing is past. Therefore, plenty of danceable music was played to start off a perfect weekend.

Next on the agenda was a skating party on the following Saturday afternoon.

A dance in the gym followed the last basketball game of the season with East Illinois. Jim Reid called square dances, and there were polkas and round dancing as well.

This being the first time that Normal has had a complete J-Hop weekend, everyone was a little worried whether it would withstand the test. All of you who attended know what a huge success it was, and those who could not make it know by the comments they heard from others.

Beverly Hadsell, secretary; Gil Pearson, president; Dr. Raman Young, faculty advisor; Jean Antelope, vice-president; Thomas Jakabowski, treasurer.

Last September, the Class of '53 began a year of activities that made college history. Election difficulties proved to be a stumbling block at the outset, but they were soon solved when a second ballot firmly established Gil Pearson as president, Jean Antelope as vice president, Beverly Hadsell as secretary, and Tom Jakobowski as treasurer.

The Class, under the able sponsorship of Dr. Simon Fagerstrom, began with a bang by winning the traditional Home-coming contests. Excitement rose to such heights that the obstacle race had to run twice, but the Sophomore class emerged victorious. Although Gil Pearson's seat on the greased flagpole was slightly unstable for a time, the Sophs again proved triumphant; consequently, green pots will again brighten the campus with the advent of spring.

"Rhapsody in Blue" was the theme of the Soph Swirl held on March 30. The work of Chairmen Cy Weber and Carol Batholomew, ably assisted by various committees, made the dance a sparkling success.

Another of the year's big events was the Variety Show headed by George Bleekman and Mary Ann Peterson. Students competed for prizes presented by a group of distinguished judges. The entire production was a great success.

Other events included splash parties, a square dance, and the Sophomore Picnic held May 31, which concluded the year's activities.

The Class of '50-'51 wishes to express its deep appreciation to Dr. Roman Young who was acting advisor during Dr. Fagerstrom's leave-of-absence.

CLASS OF '54

We came with loads of luggage and landed in the middle of a million assemblies and tests; but, of course, we came through with flying colors. As we breathed a sigh of relief, we found ourselves face to face with pre-classification and registration. We wore out our shoes standing in line after line; then taking one look at the finished schedule, we gave one big groan in unison.

Only too soon, we were introduced to the traditional green ribbons and beanies. On Frosh-Sophomore Day we put up a real struggle—but finally gave in to tradition and let the Sophomores win.

We Freshmen worked hard to establish our presence. Our football team really came through with wins and losses. We entered a float in the Homecoming parade and helped in putting up dormitory decorations.

The second semester arrived along with a real feeling of belonging. We were here to stay. All during the semester freshmen had proved their worth by working hard and becoming a part of clubs, assemblies, athletics, and classes. Scholastically, we really came through, and we felt that we had made a million friends.

We elected Clyde Fisher as class president, Gordon Garlick as vice president, Cherrill Callis as treasurer, and Beverly Feldstein as secretary. All of the Freshmen were so outstanding that it was hard to decide, but we turned out to vote for the person we thought could best fit the job. Our adviser was Dr. Glasgow.

All in all, it has been a wonderful year—one that we will always remember.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

You now have in your hands the product of many months work. Its publication would have been impossible had it not been for—the energetic and loyal efforts of the staff

the guidance of the AURORA Board

the abilities of the art editor, Gawaine Dart

the assistance and the work of the staffs of the

Indianapolis Engraving Company

Ann Arbor Press

Southgate Studio

S. K. Smith Company

Our grateful thanks to all of you.
